RESTORATION, PEACE AND UNION.

E. T. DELANY.

Or Columbus, will address the National Union Club at the Court House, on Thursday Evening, Sept. 27th. The Ladies are especially invited to attend and hear this eloquent speaker. Let all the friends of the Union of all the States attend.

SUMMER REST, by Gail Hamilton, at Russell's Bookstore.

DEER MAKING.—See Mrs. Auler's card in to-day's paper. Her work will be found satisfactory.

A REMOVAL APPROVED.—We don't approve of all of Andy Johnson's removals, although most of them are righteous, but we do decidedly endorse the removal of the old bedstead sign, which so disgraced Union Square for many years.

THE GROVER AND BAKER.—Mr. F. A. Van Buren has been appointed agent for this popular wing machine, and he will commence canvassing the coming on Monday next. He will visit all parts of the county, also, be at the fair with machines on exhibition.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.—This (Wednesday) morning John W. Hox, (son of Wesley Hox), who has just attained the years of manhood, was caught in the machinery of his father's mill, and one arm and leg were badly crushed before he could be extricated. He will hardly recover. The accident is a very distressing one. John is an excellent young man, beloved by all.

THE FLOOD AND THE CREEK.—Two millions of barrels of corn is the estimate of the destruction by flood, in the Miami valley. This may seem a vast amount, but it is not. It will not affect the price of corn at Board & Sons. They are selling at very low figures—and they can afford to do so, because they will for cash exclusively. Remember—Board & Sons, next door to Rock, Cobwell & Ellis.

SOME NEW NEWS.—The Republican Senatorial Convention for the District composed of the counties of Miami, Shelby and Steikey, is to be held at Urbana next Monday. We want this way of holding a District Convention by going out of the District to hold it in the nearest way ever heard of.

THE FAIR.—The State Fair, at Dayton, on account of the flood, The Logan and Chase counties have also been postponed to the 10th October. The Champaign County Fair will be held next week—commencing Tuesday—Providence printing. Permission from Prov. is hereby desired.

As Tom Hubbard says: "If it doesn't clear off soap, it will float off. That's what's afloat water!"

One of our exchanges remarks that he doesn't blame Noah for getting a little hoxy (so to speak) after leaving the ark. He had witnessed the terrible effects of too much water.

Another chap (in Marion) told how he and his neighbors have their houses tied to big trees to keep them from floating away, and says they have communication with each other by means of tubs, cradles, water buckets, bread bowls, etc.

THE JUDGE.—The Miami and Darke county republican chaps are badly scared over the independent stand taken by Clumpington county on the Judgeship question; and at a recent meeting held at Piqua, they resolved to have another convention—this time at Urbana on the 1st October—next Monday. They have heard an address to Clumpington county Republicans, in which they implore them to come into the convention which is to be held in "your own (this county)" etc. etc. It won't work, gentlemen; Mr. Corwin's election as an independent candidate, is certain, by a large majority.

EYE AND EAR.—Dr. Harter, Oculist and Aurist, of Troy, Ohio, distinguished for his great success in curing Blindness and Deafness, and the various diseases of the Eye and Ear, will be at Urbana—Exchange Hotel—Thursday, Friday and Saturday Oct. 11th, 12th and 13th. Bellefontaine—Fountain House—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

Dr. Harter is a resident of Troy, (Miami Co.) Ohio, and has been for many years where he has made hundreds of permanent cures of diseased eyes and ears. He is in his office the first week in every month.

Dr. Harter has a reputation of the highest standing as a scientific Physician, and skilled Eye and Ear Surgeon. He is a regular and educated physician. His references are of well known and eminent men. He certifies of cures of persons from persons of easy reference—with Post office and address given, so that any one may hear from him. Dr. Harter, Blindness, Deafness, Catarrh, Crossed Chin, Patches, Hay-fever, St. Vitus Eyes, Tumors, Wens, etc. See circulars.

THE MASS MEETING!

Next Saturday, Sept. 29th.

Hon. W. E. Finck, a Member of the present Congress,

Col. BABER of COLUMBUS

COL. J. E. CUMMINS OF SIDNEY,

Hon. J. J. Musson AND OTHERS,

Will Address the People.

THE above-named speakers will positively be present, and address the people. Let there be a general turnout of the friends of the Union of all the States to hear them. Come one and all!

Col. Cummins Will Be Here.

THE following letter announces that Col. John E. Cummins, of Shelby, will positively be present at the Mass meeting at Urbana on the 29th (next Saturday):

SIDNEY, O., Sept. 22, 1896.
JAMES TAYLOR, Esq., Chairman Committee.
Dear Sir—I shall be pleased to be with you on the 29th inst. and do whatever I can for the Union cause. Respy yours,
JOHN E. CUMMINS.

THE GREAT FLOOD.—The violent and incessant rains of late week caused a flood, which was at its height on Tuesday and Wednesday. Here in Urbana where we have but little running water, the effect of the rain was not felt, but many points around us suffered severely.

A large portion of Springfield was inundated; and the Republic of that place estimates the damage sustained at from $50,000 to $100,000.

At Piqua the Miami became so high and the current so strong that the railroad bridge on the C. & I. C. was washed away and carried as far south as Troy, where it landed. When it went down there were two men upon it—brothers—one of whom was badly crushed between the timbers—the other was carried down the river over two miles, when he jumped off and swam to shore.

At Dayton the flood was immense. The levee broke—so did the canal—and for two days, the greater part of the city was inundated—so much so, that travel from street was by boats and skiffs. The water was one foot deep in the Phillips' House and two in the Union depot. The loss is estimated at $300,000 and higher.

The damage at Columbus by the swelling of the Scioto was not very great, and confined principally to manufacturing establishments and farmers. All the bridges on the Central Railway between Urbana and Columbus "stood the storm," but there was a land-slide on the road two miles east of there, which was soon repaired, and trains from Columbus reached here Wednesday. In addition to the loss of the Piqua bridge the Central road lost the one over Nettie Creek, and two others between Piqua and Indianapolis.

The A. & G. W. L. rail bridge and culverts, west—also to the east—and some track and culverts cut between here and Indianapolis. The latter were replaced in a day.

The Blue Creek bridge on the Mad River road was swept away, and some additional damage received below Springfield, so that trains only ran as far south as Urbana, until Saturday afternoon.

This was the case with the other roads, westward. Urbana was up to the shoulders of the three roads, and there was quite a business aspect at the depot.

The Mad River road made the first through train on Sunday afternoon. The Broad Gauge went through next—on Monday; and the Columbus road expects to follow suit tomorrow. It now runs to Piqua and transfers.

There were but two railroads that could run out of Cincinnati, and but two out of Indianapolis. Two men were drowned at Indianapolis.

Undoubtedly the "sickest" looking place during the flood was the village of McLeansville, across the Miami from Dayton, which was reported to be ten feet under water.

As we write this (Tuesday) another very heavy rain is falling, and there is every prospect that another flood will occur, equaling and perhaps surpassing that of last week.

The water was two feet higher at Dayton and other points than it was during the great flood of 1847.

For seven years previous to the last Spring election Judge Patrick was Mayor of Urbana, chosen to that position by his fellow citizens irrespective of party, because of his uprightness as a man, his sound judgement and thorough qualifications. He filled the office with just impartiality and great efficiency. No one had cause to regret his vote for E. Q. Patrick.

Now, he comes out before the people as a councillor, in a time of danger to the Republic. Will the people who sustained him as Mayor now sustain him in his opinions on public affairs? We believe they will.

DR. CULBERTSON, the distinguished and successful Oculist and Aurist of Richmond, Ind., will visit Urbana professionally, at the Exchange Hotel, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 24, 25, 26 and 27. The Dr. has devoted his attention to the Eye and Ear for the last 15 years, his references and certificates are found the best men, and journals in the country—any one afflicted with difficulties of the sight or hearing should consult Dr. Culbertson during his stay next week.

See Circulars distributed in to-day's issue.

GEORGE FRANKLIN TRAM announces himself as an independent candidate for Congress in Nebraska.

The Cleveland Convention.

AMONG the notable men there was Lewis D. Campbell, ten years ago the leader on the whig side in the National House of Representatives, and among the ablest men that were in the House. Gen. T. L. Crittenden, a son of the great patriot John J. Crittenden, Gen. Alexander McDowell Cook one of the "fighting McCooks"—Durbin Ward, now opposing Vienna Schenck, in the Dayton District—one of the best soldiers in the army, and one of the ablest stumpers in Ohio: Gen. Rousseau, of Kentucky; Gen. Gustar, the great cavalry leader; Gov. Bramante, of Kentucky; Col. Leo Harris, of Cincinnati; Gen. J. B. Steedman, as brave an officer as the war developed on either side; Dr. Craven, author of Davis' Prison Life; General Granger, Meredith, Heath, Denver, but time and space fail us. The Cleveland Convention had the active support or sympathy of all that was illustrious in the war, from Gen. Grant and Sherman down to the lowest subaltern in the ranks. Gen. Ewing, son of Thomas Ewing, and a member of the family that embraces quite as much intellectual force, as any in Ohio or the west made an admirable speech. This Convention is what is called a great success. Its influence on the public mind will be strong, abiding, and increasing.—Marion Democrat.

The first day's proceedings of the Convention will be found on our outside page. We could not receive a report of the 21 day, on account of stoppage of mails by the flood. The report we give contains the speech of Gen. Wool and a synopsis of Gen. Ewing's. We will give the 22 day's proceedings in our next.—En. Union.

From O. V.

DEAR MR. UNION.—The Fred. Douglass celebration was considerably of a failure. In the first place "Colonel" Lawrence was not on hand to escort his fellow delegate to the Philadelphia Shoddy-aid Convention from the depot. Next, there was no display of the glorious star spangled banner (long may it wave!) as on other Republican days.—Bro. Fluton is to blame for this, as he is chairman of the Seccrat Committee, and didn't set the example. And lastly but not leastly, the patriots-at-home did just as they did during the war they staid at home—from the lecture and the receipts were not as healthy as they might have been.

We expected that the Chairman and the Cheer men would all beat the depot, as Fred. was a much greater person at the Shoddy-aid Convention than Pussen Brownlow; and we likewise, and very naturally, expected a stanning exhibition of 25-star flags. Yea, more than this—we expected the pills and tape store men to put up their banner with the inquiring words: "The last man and the last dollar." You know the war came to an end suddenly that they never got to furnish the last man and last dollar—so it didn't cost them a darned cent and we now thought they would surely try to get their last into the Douglass reception. But, alas! they did not. Dr. Sampson had got his awl into the wool-pile; and Bro. Kimber's whole sole was with the brightest of Africa; but Pills and Tapeare poor uppers.

Fred. looked—well, he looked just the opposite of "Colonel" Lawrence since Frank McKinney's nomination.—And then he wore a decent hat—the "identical" beaver that Anna Duckington "waved aloft" when the eloquent mulatto spoke his piece in the Philadilly Convention. It is not a second-hand hat.

You will conclude from the foregoing that Brownlow's Convention is no go here. That's what's the matter with Hannah.

Have you seen, Mr. Editor, the McCulloch circular on Judge Lawrence's bounty-jumping? The Judge would not let it be printed in his home paper. "Conscience don't make cowards of us all," and so does conscience-money.

There's another little matter to which I wish to direct the attention of your loyal readers. The Rads of Miami and Darke have called another Judicial Convention, at Urbana, next Monday, and in their address to Champaign county, they say: "Come into the Convention and work with the men who have saved the country, rather than give aid and comfort to the enemy in the crisis before us." Now "crisis before us" means election for Judge, and "the enemy" means Ichabod Corwin, independent candidate. Don't you think Mister Editor that it's a little rough for patriotic-at-home county treasurer Mitchell to be abusing a "brave boy in the field" who went to the front—Front street, Cincinnati—and hunted squirrels—in the dining room of the Barnet House?

Yours, "OLD VEX."

*It has been suggested by my Right Bowler that perhaps—remember, he says perhaps—"Colonel" Lawrence offered his services as an escort, but that Fred. declined because of the second-hand hat the Colonel wears. Fred. is a little particular about clothes and also about the kind of looking men he associates with.

O. V.

THERE were seventy deaths from cholera reported in Nashville yesterday.

MR. SWANSON resumed the discharge of his duties in the State Department yesterday.

WILSON PATTERS declines the nomination for Congress offered him by the Boston workmen.

FRANCIS CURTIS to the amount of $407.07 was distributed by the Treasury Department last week, $443,300 of mutilated currency was canceled during the same period.

Beatty of Salem, James Taylor of Urbana, Sam'l P. Morris of Union, Clinton W. Howard of Goshen, S. J. Packer of Concord, were appointed an advisory committee.

FRANK CHANCE, Secy.
